2018-2019 William J. Cunningham

International Public Service

Scholarship

The International Studies Institute (ISI) announces its annual competition for the International Public Service Scholarship. Made possible by a generous gift from UNM alumnus William J. Cunningham (B.A. 1948, M.A. 1950), the scholarship seeks “to encourage future generations to dedicate their careers, their vocations, and their legacies to service of the common good” and support students willing “to commit themselves to civil service for the public interest.”

The selection committee will award one scholarship in the amount of $1,000 for the 2018-2019 academic year. Eligible applicants must be continuing undergraduate students at UNM with a GPA of 3.0 or higher who intend to prepare for a career in international public service. Preference will be given to students pursuing a degree in East Asian Studies or International Studies with an emphasis on Asia.

Application Checklist:

- A cover sheet that includes your name, address, phone number, e-mail address, intended semester and year of graduation, and name and e-mail address of your UNM faculty recommender;
- A 500-750 word narrative describing: (1) your program of studies, (2) your interest in and intent to prepare for a career in international public service (broadly defined to include diplomatic careers at the level of nation state; intergovernmental organizations; international financial institutions; non-military, non-intelligence federal agencies in the international field; international broadcasting agencies; NGOs), and (3) your plans for using the scholarship funds;
- Your most recent unofficial UNM transcript;
- One letter of recommendation from a UNM faculty member (Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor; Lecturer I, II, or III; or a TA teaching a lower division language class). The letter should be submitted by your recommender as an e-mail attachment (.doc, .docx, or .pdf file format) to the address below.

Application must be submitted electronically to isi@unm.edu.
(.doc, .docx, or .pdf file format; file name must include your full name)
